Projects

Multi-Channel Queue Simulation System for a Petrol Station | \(GitHub\) | C++, OOP, Python

Dec 2024

- Developed a discrete-event simulation system based on OOP principles for a multi-channel queue at a petrol station, analyzing customer behavior and service efficiency.
- Developed an experimental design to evaluate queue dynamics, service times, and waiting times across different fuel types.
- Performed results analysis using statistical graphs to determine queue lengths, waiting probabilities, and pump idle times.
- Built comprehensive documentation, detailing problem formulation, system components, experimental parameters, results analysis, and conclusions.

Bank System Database Management Project | \(GitHub\) | SQL, C#

May 2024

- Designed a conceptual and physical Entity-Relationship Diagram (ERD).
 - Developed a SQL Server database from the ERD and populated it with sample data.
 - Built a C# desktop application to interact with the database.
